Welcome to the first edition of WHS Pipeline, a newsletter for Washington Headquarters Services (WHS) personnel and customers. Pipeline is intended as a direct conduit of information about the progress of the WHS organizational transformation, recent newsworthy activity and anticipated events. As WHS evolves, so will this publication.

Your feedback will help make Pipeline and future communication efforts more useful and relevant. Please send comments to information@whs.mil.

DEDICATION OF DOD CAREER CIVILIAN CORRIDOR

WHS Graphics and Presentation staff worked around the clock to complete the new exhibit honoring DoD career civil servants in time for the May 25 dedication ceremony. Visit the exhibit in Pentagon hallway 2A300.

"Their work often unheralded, career civil servants provide continuity to an ever-changing work force," said Director of Administration & Management Raymond F. DuBois. "They provide technical, managerial, financial and professional expertise to America's oldest, largest, arguably busiest and most successful enterprise – the Department of Defense."

WHS STRATEGIC PLAN

A sneak preview into of the future of WHS. The following guiding principles were decided on by WHS directors during four intense days of strategic planning sessions.

- Serve our Customers
- Work as a Team
- Invest in our People
- Commit to Quality
- Act with Integrity
- Enjoy your Job

Do you have an example of a WHS employee or situation that exemplifies our guiding principles? Please send your comments to information@whs.mil. And stay tuned for the publication of the new WHS Strategic Plan!

WHS PERSONALITIES

SSG Renee Iniguez recently returned from the Advanced Noncommissioned Officer Course at the NCO Academy at Fort Jackson, SC. Her training is part of the required NCO Education System for all NCOs advancing in the ranks. SSG Iniguez was recognized as the Distinguished Honor Graduate with the highest GPA (98.67%) in her class, and the highest GPA overall. SSG Iniguez serves as administrative assistant to Howard Becker, WHS Director. Congratulations Renee!
